Question and test

Causal question: does this 2026 q3 policy retention report correctly apply the source evidence to follow-up timing, while keeping the assigned review period separate from the source date?

Ordered procedure: first examine whether the assigned follow-up date changes the source facts; then compare the source control, case, package, numerator, denominator, residual rating and decision; finally test the counterexample: Backdating the source record to the follow-up would erase evidence lineage.

Interpretation and follow-up

Interpretation

Observation: the direct record names Aegis Control AC-27 for CASE-260713-184, evidence set 184, source sequence 98, and 48 final completions from 48 synthetic roles. For follow-up timing, the source date remains 2026-07-13; this report's assigned period is 2026-Q3 (2026-07-01 to 2026-09-30).

Finding

Finding 006225: keeps the compensating review visible for the specific issue of follow-up timing. The evidence supports a governance conclusion because timely attestations are 47 while final completion is 48; the stated residual rating remains Medium, not an incident or access assertion.

Disposition and follow-up

Disposition: retain this bounded synthetic record under DEC-260713-004 for 18 months.
Owner and timing action: GRC should document the follow-up as a new review action before publishing the 2026 q3 policy retention note. Any variance is recorded against RISK-031 without altering the direct source record.
