

Box 14 / folio 188: source edition

LA-SRC-B14-F188; Box 14, folio 188; 1907-04-02; Vale revision

Editorial statement

This searchable scholarly edition records a synthetic four-page correspondence witness. Transcription is diplomatic where it preserves deletion, supply, and uncertainty conventions.

Reading text

P01. The revision narrows the image from emblem to editorial meeting device. P02. The writer asks that the phrase remain available across English, French, German, and Japanese working notes. P03. [supplied: The] margin keeps the meeting open; nation civic exchange is the preferred sense.

Material and collation

Cream laid paper; brown synthetic iron-gall-style hand; small oval HCR/LCS accession stamp; blue editorial pencil. The ordered witness is LA-SRC-B14-F188, page order 1-4, line count 17.

Apparatus

LA-042 records the primary Box 14 sequence. Compare LA-SRC-B14-F181, F183, F186, F188, F191, F193, and F196 for draft, enclosure, note, revision, proof, gloss, and response.

Locus	Reading	Editorial note
P01	The revision narrows the image from emblem to editorial meeting device.	Retained as original synthetic text
margin	[word?] meeting	Uncertain reading marked without repair

Editorial citation: Haldenmere Civic Repository, Linden Correspondence Series, LA-SRC-B14-F188; Box 14, folio 188; 1907-04-02; Vale revision. All people, repository descriptions, and text are wholly synthetic.