

Claims and Evidence

Reading 01

A claim is a testable statement

A useful claim names a relationship or pattern that can be examined. Evidence is the observed material that bears on that statement.

Practice

Mark the claim, identify the observation, and explain the bridge between them before deciding how confident to be.